ROCHESTER BOY AIRMAN OF MONTH

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Joseph of 199 Burgess Avenue, Rochester have received word that their son, A/1C Albert Joseph, was selected as airman of the month from his squadron.

Lt. Colonel Ralph V. Miller in his letter to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph he cited "selection was based on appearance, military bearing, job knowledge and performance, knowledge of current events and character".

In offering his congratulations Lt. Colonel Miller noted in his letter to the Josephs, "You may well be pleased with your son's efforts. Continued application on his part will assure a profitable and rewarding career in defending our great nation."

A/1C Joseph is stationed with 964th Airborne Early Warning Control Squadron (ADC), Mc Clellan Air Force Base, California.

DIG IT CATS-IT'S REAL COOL, MAN.

The southern weather didn't pass us by this trip as March roared into New England with a lion sized blizzard. It meant breaking out the long unused snow shovels. Many backs, long unaccustomed to furious digging, still remind us of muscles we had long forgotten were there. The Mattapoisett highway department crew worked throughout the night of the storm using the big grader bulldozers and plows of all kinds and, thanks to their efforts, the streets of the town and the outskirts were kept in usable condition at all times. Considering the record snowfall and the high winds which piled up deep drifts, their work was remarkable. Their work was done under the worst possible conditions, and in talking with people throughout the town, you hear nothing but praise for this work on the streets.

There is a certain excitement about any record storm. Sometimes modern life goes along too smoothly, and we need something to bring out the old pioneer spirit to give us a lift. When a blizzard like this brings everything to a standstill and the morning after brings the great digging out, you don't find many unhappy people. It brings a little adventure into life. So it's not the youngsters alone who get a kick out of a deep snowfall. It makes us all a little younger. And speaking of the youngsters, if you are in need of a small loan, this is the time to find the teen age boys the most solvent. Digging out cars and driveways proved a flourishing business for any boy with a shovel and a store of energy. It was energy they needed, for some of the cars were so buried that they had to probe for them. A lady told us of seeing a boy shoveling his way across a lot on Water Street, and it turned out he wasn't shoveling a path. Somewhere in the smooth surface of the drifts was a Volkswagen, and it was his job to locate it and dig it out.

Our winter was too good to be true. We were due for a storm and, as long as we were, why not a humdinger. Something to dig out of mightily, to take pictures of and to corner the grandchildren with. The snow will measure a little deeper every year in the memories of all who braved the blizzard of 1960.

In connection with the storm, we would like to say a word about the people who bring you the Presto. These local people in business are mighty handy to have on any day of the year. When a storm, such as this, comes along, they are vital. Because we are a small business, we know how necessary their support is to us. They in turn depend on you. We think that these small businessmen have demonstrated their true worth to the town and to you this weekend. We know that you will feel the same. We know the people who advertise with us and are proud to represent them. We know they can compete with any business in service, quality and price. They just work much harder than the giants. Believe us, they appreciate your support. Sincerely, we do also.

HORNBLOWERS PLAY POSTPONED

The Hornblowers of St. Gabriel's Church, Marion were to open with their comedy, Harvey, last Friday evening. Because of the blizzard the play has been postponed for about a month. We will contact the group and give you the new dates. This postponment will be fortunate for many who have not had the opportunity to obtain tickets. It is seldom that a great comedy comes along. It is a great treat to see one presented on the stage by talented people. The Hornblowers have a company of players who have a flair for comedy. We have had the pleasure of seeing their plays for several years in a row. They have always been so good that we spent 3 hours digging the car out and putting chains on it Saturday with the intention of going to the play. This is loyalty. If tickets can be had, don't wait. You will have an enjoyable evening with the Hornblowers.

NEW BEDFORD LADY TO FILL ROCHESTER PULPIT

A gracious lady with a charming smile and easy going personality will fill the pulpit at the First Congregational Church of Rochester for the coming year. Elected to serve is Mrs. George A. Hill, Jr. of New Bedford who is a licensed preacher.

Mrs. Hill is most happy when she is helping and working for the church. She noted that as a little girl it was her dream "to marry a minister". At the time of her marriage Mr. Hill was not a minister but shortly thereafter he entered theological school. Presently Mr. Hill is serving as pastor at St. Paul Methodist Church, New Bedford.

Mrs. Hill is taking conference study in the Methodist Church and in August plans to attend Boston University supply pastor's school.

The new preacher noted she has received permission from the Old Colony Executive Council of Congregational Christian Churches to serve sacrament of communion and baptism at the First Congregational Church of Rochester.
